It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

ANNUAL REPORT

ALBANY, N. Y., January 9, 1918.

To the Legislature of the State of New York:

The State Tax Commission presents to the Legislature the report of the State Tax Department for the year 1917. In the last report of the Commission, submitted to the Legislature January 10, 1917, a statement was included of the notable progress in tax matters which had been made in this State during the calendar year ending December 31, 1916. Continued and most encouraging progress in the field of State taxation during the calendar year ending December 31, 1917, is set forth in this report.

The Corporation Tax Bureau of the State Tax Department has through its work assessed corporation taxes during the current year covered by this report amounting to $26,000,000. Chapter 726 of the Laws of New York of 1917 took effect June 4th, and as this statute established an entirely new principle in taxation in this State, comparison of the figures of the year covered by this report with previous years is impossible. Owing largely to the statute above quoted the amount of corporation taxes assessed in this year is nearly twice that of the largest preceding yearly total in the history of the State.

The Tax Law makes it the duty of the Tax Commission to apportion among the several tax districts interested the tax collected on mortgages covering property in more than one tax district situated wholly within the State. In the last report of the Commission it was stated that during the year ended December 31, 1916, 960 cases of determination and apportionment were disposed of and thereby there was released for distribution the sum of $296,769.04. Reporting like efficiency in mortgage tax administration during the year ended December 31, 1917, the Commission finds from the records that it has disposed of 1,200 cases of determination and apportionment, thereby releasing for distribution to the various tax districts interested the sum of $240,416.25.

From the establishment of the present Tax Commission and up to December 31, 1917, the Commission, under authority of section 263 of the Tax Law, has examined the records of recording officers of the State for the purpose of ascertaining if all taxes collected have been accounted for and for other purposes set forth in the statute in 59 of the counties of the State. There remain only the counties of Bronx, Nassau and New York to be examined. Examiners are now at work in each of these counties.

For the year ending June 30, 1917, which is the end of the mortgage tax year, a total mortgage tax of $2,436,499.26 was collected.

During the year ended December 31, 1917, $17,963.77 in delinquent taxes and penalties were collected, an amount which would have been largely increased had it not been for the intervention of the statute of limitations.

The year 1916 was the first year in which the Special Franchise Bureau of the State Tax Department included the valuations of all the special franchise properties in the State. The report of the work of that year showed a total increase in special franchise valuations of $68,576,377 over the valuations for the year 1915. Notwithstanding the fact that the operations of the special franchises during the year 1917 reflect abnormal conditions which affected the net earnings of most utility and transportation companies, the report for the year 1917 shows an increase of $56,340,983 over the valuations of the year 1916. For the years 1916 and 1917 the total increase in special franchise valuations in this State is $124,917,460.

In the last report of the Tax Commission to the Legislature it was stated that the policy of the Commission was to work for the utmost possible co-operation between the State Tax Department and the local assessors and supervisors of the State. The fact that such co-operation had been established was shown by an increase of the assessed valuation of real and personal property in the State of $300,808,840 during the year 1916. That the same co-operation has been continued and developed is shown by the following statement:

ASSESSMENTS AND EXEMPTIONS

The total assessed value of property within the State for the year 1917, based upon advance reports of assessors, is as follows:
Real property (inclusive of equalized special franchise property)	$12,006,966,764

erty ..	$614,365,819

Personal property (other than bank stock)....	513,853,047 of real and personal property over the year 1916 of	$429,382,168

REAL PROPERTY EXEMPT FROM TAXATION

Total assessed value of real property exempt from taxation, as reported to this department under section 15 of the Tax Law, is as follows:

For the year 1917.....	$2,747,673,448
For the year 1916.....	2,606,595,302
	<hr/>
Increase 1917 over 1916.....	$141,078,146
	<hr/> <hr/>

In accounting for the increase of $541,024,516 in the assessed value of real property in the year 1917 over the valuations for the year 1916, later in the report a table is submitted showing the actual increase in assessments and also the rate per cent of such increase, and this table is referred to at this point as showing the faithful work of the assessors in the tax districts therein named. The results, ranging all the way from a few thousand dollars' increase to an increase over $126,000,000 in one of the cities of the State, is striking evidence of the efficient working of the tax machinery of the State at the present time and is not only evidence of the co-operation which has already been established between the tax officials throughout the State, but is an earnest of continued progress toward a fairer and better assessment of the property of the State in the future.

Probably the most important tax legislation of the year 1917 was chapter 726 of the Laws of New York, 1917, entitled "An act to amend the tax law, in relation to a franchise tax on manufacturing and mercantile corporations." A detailed statement of the experience of the department in administering this law, together with suggestions looking to its improvement, will be found later in the report.

On the 1st day of November, 1917, Martin Saxe filed his resignation as a member of the State Tax Commission. Since the establishment of the present Commission Mr. Saxe has been its president, and to him is largely due the present efficient organization of the department. On the 1st day of November, 1917, Walter H. Knapp was designated by the Governor as president of the Commission and John J. Merrill was appointed by Governor Whitman a member of the Commission. Mr. Merrill has for many years been in charge of the corporation tax work of the State.

ORGANIZATION OF THE STATE TAX DEPARTMENT

The organization of the State Tax Department comprises the State Tax Commission, together with the following divisions and bureaus:

- A. The State Tax Commission — General Work.
- B. The Corporation Tax Bureau.
- C. The Mortgage Tax Bureau.
- D. The Special Franchise Tax Bureau.
- E. The Bureau of Local Assessments, Equalization and Statistics.
- F. The Law Division.
- G. The General Office Administration Division.

A. The State Tax Commission — General Work

The State Tax Commission is by statute made the head of the State Tax Department. In addition to various specific duties the statute placed upon the Commission various other duties of a more general nature. On its administration of this general work the Commission reports as follows:

County Visitations

Section 173 of the Tax Law requires the Commission to visit officially every county in the State at least once in two years to inquire into methods of assessment and taxation, and to ascertain whether the assessors faithfully discharge their duties, particularly with reference to the statutory requirement that real and personal property not exempt from taxation shall be assessed at full value. These county visitations are held after the field work of the assessor has been completed. Their purpose is to see how the field work of the assessors has been done, to inquire into the methods of assessment, and to ascertain whether the assessors are faithfully discharging their duties. During the year 1917, pursuant to this statutory requirement the Commission visited 32 counties, a list of which appears later in the report. Prior to 1917 the law required one or more of the members of the Commission to be present at each of these county visitations, but pursuant to an amendment by the Legislature of 1917 the Commission may designate the deputy commissioner in charge of the Bureau of Local Assessments, Equalization and Statistics to make and conduct certain of these visitations. These meetings give an opportunity for the Tax Commission to have a personal interview with the supervisors and board of assessors in each tax district and to discuss with them matters of detail pertaining to their work. Each assessment-roll is examined with the assessors and full instructions are given how the roll must be prepared and what information it must contain to comply with the provisions of law and meet, if necessary, the test of the courts. It is to be noted that many of the counties are now requesting the Tax Commission to make these visits each year, though the law does not permit the Commission to visit any one county oftener than once in two years. During 1918 the Commission plans to visit every county not visited in 1917 before the 1st of July, on which day the field work of the assessors must be completed. This will give the local assessors an opportunity to get such information from the Commission as they may desire and, if necessary, to make changes in the assessment-rolls.

Equalization Appeals and Reviews

One serious problem with which the bureau has been confronted in its efforts to secure better property assessments is the equalization of assessments by local boards of supervisors and county equalization commissions. County equalizations in general more than any other single thing have hindered progress in the local assessment of property. When the bureau first turned its attention to these equalizations, not a single instance was found in which they were founded wholly upon facts; they were either the result of arbitrary action by a majority of the members of the equalizing body or a mere result of barter for other considerations. By this is meant that in many cases the rate adopted by the board had little reference to assessments of property, but was based upon how the supervisor of the tax district "stood" with his fellow supervisors and how his town had been treated in other matters.

The first call of the Commission upon boards of supervisors for copies of data upon which their last equalization was based failed to meet with a single favorable response. One or two boards sent to the department about a dozen estimates of property values in some of the towns in their respective counties, but they afterward stated that they had given them little consideration. Representatives of the bureau have personally visited as many boards of supervisors as possible during the time those boards were in annual session during the past two years, have placed before them all the information we had, aided them in procuring such other information as they desired and urged them to base their equalizations upon facts. In every county which we so visited there has been improvement in equalizations of assessments and in every instance boards of supervisors have heartily welcomed our aid.

COMPARISON OF ASSESSMENT OF CITY REAL ESTATE IN 1907 AND 1917

Percentage of Increase in Ten Years, 39 Per Cent

During the past year the Commission has heard appeals from equalizations by boards of supervisors of the counties of Delaware, Erie, Saratoga and Westchester. The Delaware county and Saratoga county appeals have been decided and orders of the Commission entered. Unavoidable delays in the work of attorneys and their appraisers in the Westchester county appeal makes it impossible to report this case as finally closed. The final hearings are scheduled for the week beginning January 7th, and the case will be decided within the shortest possible time thereafter. The appeal from the Erie county equalization has been discontinued, after several hearings by mutual consent.

In Delaware county the town of Hancock appealed from the board of supervisors' equalization in 1916. Several hearings were held and much evidence received. A careful review of the evidence failed, in the opinion of the Commission, to sustain the allegation of the appellant town of Hancock that it had suffered injustice from the supervisors' equalization. The appeal was dismissed with statutory costs against the town of Hancock and the Commission's order to that effect entered.

In Saratoga county the city of Saratoga Springs appealed from the equalization made by the board of supervisors of that county in 1916. Several hearings were held and a large amount of evidence of property values was received. The evidence clearly sustained the allegation of the appellant that the city suffered financial loss through the supervisors' equalization and the appeal was sustained. The order and determination of the Commission awarded statutory costs to the appellant city and in addition directed that there be refunded to it at the time of the next levy of taxes (December, 1917) the sum of $27,221.77. The town of Corinth was penalized $11,067.63, and the town of Moreau $8,263.86. Twelve other towns were penalized $14,213.82.

The Commission intends to exercise its authority to conduct appeals and reviews of supervisors' equalizations to the full extent of the law, so far as it is physically able so to do, believing that by correcting unfair and illegal equalizations and preventing their recurrence, it will not only secure justice to tax districts in the apportionment of general taxes, but also remove one of the greatest inducements to under-assess property for taxation purposes.

Assessment Maps

The agitation, inaugurated by the bureau for a more general use of tax maps throughout the State, is bearing fruit if the inquiries as to the initial cost of the introduction of a system for the assessment of real property based upon the use of tax and land value maps can be taken as a guide. The use of maps for assessment purposes has been urged at all the meetings of the Tax Commission with the supervisors and assessors of the several counties of the State, and an interest has been aroused which promises good results. The assessment of real property without the use of maps is at the best but a haphazard proceeding, while the use of tax maps, supplemented by land value maps, provides a scientific method for the assessment of real property. While the initial cost of such a system is considerable, the results attained through increased valuation of real property, due to the ability to compare at a glance relative values, will more than compensate for the original cost of the introduction of the system. In times of stress like the present, it is not to be expected that any but the most urgent expenditures will be considered by municipal authorities, but the Tax Commission will continue the campaign of education for the installation of proper assessment methods in the hope that with the return to normal conditions there will be put in operation in the several tax districts of the State assessment systems based upon the use of tax and land value maps.

Assessment maps have been approved by the State Tax Commission, pursuant to section 30 of the Tax Law, during the year 1917 for the following tax districts:

SARATOGA COUNTY

Saratoga Springs city (outside district).

WESTCHESTER COUNTY

Village of Mount Kisco (towns of Bedford and New Castle).

State Tax Conference

Section 171-b authorizes the Tax Commission to request the local assessors of every tax district in the State to meet with the Commission once in two years upon a day and place designated for the purpose of considering matters relating to taxation, securing more uniformity of valuation throughout the State and discussing and formulating desirable changes in the laws relating to taxation and method of assessment. The first State tax conference under this statute was held in the city of Albany on January 12 and 13, 1916. A full report of the conference was submitted to the Legislature last year. In addition to all city and town assessors, all village assessors and supervisors in the State were also invited to attend. The conference was successful in every way. Over 1,500 assessors and approximately 200 county officials and others were present and each session was attended by approximately 2,000 men. In the opinion of the Commission the State tax conference of assessors is abundantly justified in the results in the tax work of the State which are clearly traceable to its influence.

Necessarily, however, in a State the size of New York such a conference is attended with considerable expense. In consideration of the general conditions of the present year, of the fact that the United States is now engaged in the greatest war in history and that citizens and States as well are being asked to conserve the resources of the country in every possible way, it has been decided by the Commission not to summon the tax officials of the State in conference during the present year. The work which would have been done at the conference will be partially effected in the county visitations and at various meetings which will be held throughout the State at which representatives of the State Tax Department will be present.

B. The Corporation Tax Bureau

TAXATION OF MANUFACTURING AND MERCANTILE COMPANIES

(Chapter 726, Laws of 1917)

Chapter 726 of the Laws of 1917 departed from the beaten paths of taxation in New York State and introduced us to new and untried ways. The act was without doubt the most important tax legislation passed by the Legislature at its last session. It contained much that was extremely good—much equally uncommendable.

Taxes aggregating about $15,000,000 were levied and billed prior to January 1st. Uncompleted work now under consideration by the Corporation Tax Bureau of this department indicates that the gross receipts from reports received will approximate nearly $17,000,000.

Not half of the 41,627 corporations to which blanks were sent have reported. About 6,000 companies of which the department had no record requested blanks and reported. A constant and earnest attempt has been made to locate the delinquents. It seems probable that not more than half of the companies liable to report have complied with the law. Many thousands of these have now been located and will be notified of their delinquency. It is a fair presumption that from this source there will be collected from seven to ten million dollars, and that eventually the collections will amount to between twenty-four and twenty-seven millions of dollars. Unless this sum is reduced by the granting of credits under the provision of the last sentence of section 219-j of the Tax Law, the State will retain between sixteen and eighteen millions of dollars.

The credit provision appears to be so inequitable and unjust from every point of view that it should be remedied by legislative action at once. There is no ground upon which to justify the presence of this provision.

The taxation of the personal property and of the capital stock of these corporations under the provisions of section 12 of the Tax Law after June 4, 1917, is forbidden by section 219-j. Keeping this inhibition in mind it appears that no corporation subject to the provisions of article IX-a of the Tax Law can be legally taxed upon its personal property or capital stock for the year 1918.

The tax provided by this law is for the year beginning November 1, 1917, and ending October 31, 1918. The only possible overlapping would be for the months of November and December, 1917. This is only in seeming and not in substance, because the corporation is not required under any provision of the Tax Law to pay taxes for the same purpose but once each year upon its personal property and its capital stock.

Furthermore, this provision for credit is so drawn that in not to exceed twelve cities out of fifty-seven in the State can any credit be obtained by any corporation, and none could be had by any corporation heretofore taxed in any town outside of an incorporated village or city. The grotesqueness of the situation is apparent when you consider two glove manufacturing companies, one located in Johnstown, the other in Gloversville, both in Fulton county—one entitled to credit, the other not.

It seems to be a clear case of unequal protection of the law and wherever applicable results in a gratuity neither required by equity nor justified by facts. The question of the constitutionality of this provision has been submitted to the Attorney-General and the Tax Commission will be guided by his advice.

The act, as a whole, bears the impress of a desire to accomplish a certain purpose and is drawn without consideration of many other provisions of the Tax Law.

The law as it now stands attempts to classify corporations by the character of the property in which they deal, regardless of the fact that thousands of them are doing business of a mixed character, which renders the determination of their taxability not only difficult, but doubtful. For example: Take a company engaged in the hotel business. The only reasonable way to determine whether it is taxable or not under this act is to discover, if possible, whether its principal gross income results from the sale of victuals, drinks and cigars, or from the rental of rooms and the rendering of services. In this line of cases you start at the restaurant and end with the rooming house. There are plenty of actual examples that might be cited, if public policy permitted, much more difficult of determination than this.

Fundamentally the law is bad. It is negative instead of positive in its provisions.

It is recommended:

That subdivisions 3 and 4 of section 208 be repealed.

If the above recommendation be concurred in, section 209 should provide specifically for the classes of corporations to be taxed.

It is, therefore, recommended:

That every corporation except those specified in section 210 of the tax law shall be taxed annually under this article.

If this recommendation is concurred in, section 210 should provide specific exemption for all such corporations as are not to be included.

It is recommended:

That corporations wholly engaged in buying, selling and holding real estate, companies whose principal income is derived from holding stocks or bonds of other corporations, banks, savings banks, institutions for savings, and corporations taxable under sections 184 to 189, inclusive, be exempted from the provisions of section 209 of this article.

The provisions with relation to bills and accounts receivable in sections 211 and 214 are not satisfactory.

It is recommended:

That something more reasonable be substituted for these provisions.

The element of "stocks of other corporations owned" should be eliminated. Such property in the hands of corporations of the classes to be taxed under this act is not capital actually employed in the ordinary course of business. Such holdings generally represent surplus investments which are earning a relatively small per cent of the income when compared with the assets directly involved in the company's operations.

It is recommended:

That subdivision 5 of section 211, and subdivisions 3 and 6 of section 214 be stricken from the law.

It is also recommended:

That proper provision be made in section 214 for the taxation of the net income of corporations doing business both within and without the United States. The present provision is ambiguous and probably inadequate. Under the Federal Law such a corporation returns only its earnings in the United States. If it has assets outside the United States and in New York State, the portion taxable by this state is largely reduced.

Section 219-a contains a provision that the Tax Commission shall audit and state an account for taxes on or before the first day of November. In many cases this cannot be complied with because the reports of corporations may come in so near to that date that sufficient time does not exist either in which to fix the tax or to obtain other and necessary data upon which to base an assessment.

It is recommended:

That this section be appropriately amended.

The provisions of section 219-c can be more appropriately stated. Every corporation should have at least thirty days from the date of billing in which to pay a tax without being subject to penal interest.

It is recommended:

That section 219-e be appropriately amended.

Section 219-h, which relates to the disposition of the revenues collected, provides for apportioning to the State and to the taxing districts the interest and penalties received by the comptroller. The return of interest and penalties to local tax districts will entail an expense of many thousand dollars upon the State and, in many cases, the cost of reapportioning the sum would exceed the amount received.

It is suggested that all penalties and interest might better be turned into the general fund of the State as partial remuneration for the cost of administering the law or paying the costs of litigation.

It is recommended:

That section 219-h be appropriately amended in this respect, and that subdivision 4 of the same section be so amended as to meet some contingencies of distribution that have arisen.

The definition relating to personal property, in the first sentence of section 219-j is uncertain, ambiguous and inadequate.

It is recommended:

That the definition of personal property for the purposes of this act be exactly defined.

A serious condition developed by this act is the exemption extended to more than half of the corporations of this class, most of whom are relieved from all taxation for all purposes. This Commission called attention to this matter during the last session of the Legislature. The extent to which the exemption would run was then unknown, but is fully in evidence now.

There are at least 20,000 corporations doing business in this State—most of which are prosperous concerns—which have so arranged their affairs by one method or another that they have no net income. They have never paid any dividends, in many cases, yet they go on year after year doing an extended business. Under the present rule they pay nothing for the franchise and for the privilege granted by the State. They generally own no real estate and, therefore, pay nothing locally toward the support of the government. They are the lilies in the field of taxation. They should at least pay a flat tax of one mill upon their capital stock to the State, with a minimum tax of $10 per annum. It may be confidently assumed that such a provision would produce additional revenues exceeding $1,500,000.

It is recommended:

That this law be so amended as to subject to taxation every corporation thereunder to a tax of one mill on each one dollar of issued capital stock, apportioned upon the basis of segregated assets provided in the act.

Some interesting light has been thrown upon the subject of the taxation of personal property by the development of this law.

The following elements of marked improvement are noted in connection with this law. Heretofore the personal property of many corporations organized under our own laws has practically escaped taxation by having their principal places of business, as expressed in their certificates of incorporation, located in some other taxing district than that in which their actual business and tangible personal property were located. Many companies located in New York city had offices, for purposes of taxation only, located in villages in rural communities, and by paying a nominal annual tax escaped taxation upon thousands of dollars worth of property.

Foreign corporations doing a large portion, and in many cases, all of their business in this State, either submitted to a small assessment as a matter of policy or paid no taxes, as seemed to suit best their convenience.

By the provision in this act apportioning the taxes to the taxing districts upon the basis of the pro rata of the property actually present in such districts during the year, the money flows into local funds to pay for the protection actually received and the possibility of escape from assessment becomes very limited. The correction of these situations has resulted in securing hundreds of thousands of dollars in taxes from tax dodgers, and legitimately lessening the burden of those hitherto carrying an excessive load.

As an example of the inequity and insufficiency of the present provisions for the general taxation of property, the following case is illuminating:

A corporation that has been taxed under this law in the sum of about $233,000, earned, during the year 1916, in excess of $7,500,000. Its principal place of business, as expressed in its charter, was in a city, but its plant and most of its personal property, except its office furniture, were just across the city line in an adjoining town. During the year 1916 it paid about $11,000 in taxes in the city and about $22,000 in the town. The total amount paid was approximately one-seventh the amount paid under this law. The cause for this wide difference is found in the fact that the millions of dollars' worth of personal property of a going concern competent to earn and earning annually hundreds of per cent upon its invested capital has not been put upon the tax-roll.

This is not an isolated case or an exaggerated example. This is conclusively shown by the fact that the companies reached by this act have heretofore been paying not to exceed $5,000,000 in taxes and are now called upon to pay between four and five times that amount. From this it is readily deduced that personal property generally has not been carrying more than one-fifth of its share of the burden, even if the 3 per cent provision of this act is ample, which, to say the least, is doubtful. When you consider that real property throughout the State surrenders for the support of government not less, upon the average, than 25 per cent of its gross income, it seems manifest that 3 per cent upon the net income of corporations of this class is grossly inadequate.

This inadequacy will be very clear to those called upon to raise funds necessary to carry on the State government at the close of the war, because the taxable net income, now swollen by the unusual profits of munition makers and of those concerns which are profiteers, will then have disappeared and in their absence will come tremendous reductions in taxable bases.

Thousands of corporations formerly taxable upon their capital stock under section 182 of the Tax Law are now taxable under this article and comparison of results obtained under the two methods is now possible.

Under the former law a corporation earning 6 per cent or more on any amount of capital stock has paid directly into the State treasury, for State purposes, about $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent on its net earnings, and all of its property has remained taxable for local purposes, whereas under article IX-a the State treasury receives but 2 per cent — a direct loss of one-fifth of the State's revenue from these sources — and the personal property of the corporation is exempted from local assessment and taxation.

It is recommended:

That if the rate is to be raised any increase exceeding one-half per cent be given to the local tax districts.

The question of the rate under this law should have your serious consideration.

The burden of taxation in this State has now arisen to about $32.50 for every man, woman and child within our borders. Ultimately most of this falls upon the owner of real property and the tenant. It is a serious condition when the head of a family of four members surrenders $130 a year from his income for the cost of government.

The cost of government may not be excessive, but its unequal distribution should be corrected as far as possible.

Exemptions Largely Increased Under This Law

For some years it has been the professed policy of the State not to grant further exemptions from taxation. The above law, however, was so framed that its operation results in the exemption of millions of real and personal property from any taxation. Section 219-j expressly exempts all manufacturing and mercantile corporations defined by the act from any taxes upon their personal property, which is so defined as to include a very considerable amount of property which theretofore was properly assessed as real estate. It was supposed that the 3 per cent tax upon net earnings, one-third of which goes to the localities, would be a reasonable substitute for the local taxation of personal property and fixed machinery of these corporations, but this is true only in the case of less than one-half of the corporations defined by this act. At least 50 per cent of the manufacturing and mercantile corporations which have reported to this Commission, show no net earnings, and consequently pay no tax under this law, thus depriving localities of the right to assess such corporations upon their personal property under section 12 of the Tax Law, and the right to assess that part of their real estate known as fixed machinery, and also depriving the State of the right to assess such of them as were taxable under section 182 of the Tax Law, on their general franchises. The amount of these exemptions cannot be even approximated. The fact that local authorities have not heretofore assessed such property adequately does not mitigate the evil. The right existed and they should not be deprived of that right even though some have not exercised it.

LEGISLATIVE RECOMMENDATIONS

Pursuant to the provisions of subdivision 14 of section 171 of the Tax Law, specifically charging the Tax Commission with the duty of recommending "such changes or amendments to the tax laws as it may deem advisable," the following is respectfully submitted:

Constitutional Amendment

In 1916 the Commission recommended the following constitutional amendment for the consideration of the Legislature. The Commission renews its recommendations for the present year.

Section 1. The Legislature shall establish a plan of State and local taxation and provide for the complete administration thereof. Local tax officers shall be residents of their respective tax districts which shall be defined by the Legislature and they shall be elected by the electors thereof or appointed by such authorities within the district as the Legislature shall designate for that purpose. The jurisdiction, powers and duties of local tax district officers shall be prescribed by law.

Section 2. Hereafter no exemption from taxation shall be granted except by general laws and upon the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house.

Direct State Tax

A direct State tax becomes necessary when the general funds of the State appropriated by the Legislature are insufficient to meet the ordinary expenses of State government, the interest upon the bonded indebtedness of the State, and to provide for the sinking fund for the ultimate payment of the principal. Until section 11 of article 7 of the Constitution was adopted in 1905 it was always necessary to provide for a direct tax to pay the interest and principal upon the bonded indebtedness, these bonds being authorized by article 7, section 4 of the Constitution, when ratified by popular vote, the language of the last mentioned section being as follows:

“and such law shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax to pay, and sufficient to pay, the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt within fifty years from the time of the contracting thereof.”

Since the enactment of section 11 of article 7, it is possible notwithstanding the provisions of section 4 of article 7, to provide for the interest and sinking fund of the bonded indebtedness without resort to a direct State tax. Such tax, however, was found necessary last year because the indirect revenues of the State were insufficient to meet these obligations.

The following table shows the rate, the amount produced and the purposes for which the money was used:

The rate of the direct State tax levied in the year 1917 was
1.08 mills and produced.....		$13,058,752 65
Of which there was appropriated for general State purposes		17,653 49
For Canal debt:
Principal	$2,521,837 22
Interest	5,192,500 00
	<hr/>	$7,714,337 22
For Highway debt:

Interest	2,320,000 00

For Palisades Park debt:

Interest	200,000 00
	<hr/>	276,531 18
For Forest Preserve debt:
Principal	$25,388 21
Interest	100,000 00
	<hr/>	125,388 21
	<hr/>	$13,041,099 16
		<hr/>
		$13,058,752 65

It will thus be seen that only a very small portion of the sum raised by direct tax during the last fiscal year, to wit: $17,653.49 was used for the general purposes of the State.

The statement that a direct tax imposes a grievous burden upon the taxpayers of the State is not well founded in fact. For illustration, in the city of Albany the tax rate for all purposes, which has recently been announced, is..... $2 88 on each $100 of property valuation. Of this amount,
the sum of 11

was for the State purposes above mentioned, and the sum of $2 77 per hundred dollars was for city and county purposes, the State tax being approximately one-twenty-sixth of the entire tax raised in this city. And this is substantially true in other cities and tax districts. This statement is not made for the purpose of lessening the interest of taxpayers in the expenditures of the State, but for the purpose of stimulating their interest in expenditures both State and local.

C. The Mortgage Tax Bureau

The provisions of Article 11 of the Tax Law, commonly known as the Mortgage Recording Tax Law, give to the State Tax Commission a supervisory power over all recording officers who are charged with the duty of recording mortgages and collecting taxes thereon. It also constitutes it the duty of the Tax Commission to make such rules and regulations for the guidance of recording officers as may be necessary for the proper collection of all mortgage taxes and accurately accounting for the same. The administration of these duties is placed by the Tax Commission with the mortgage tax bureau. A review of the work of this bureau for the year 1917 shows:

Apportionments

Under the provisions of section 260 of the Tax Law it is the duty of the State Tax Commission to determine the amount taxable of all mortgages covering real property situated partly within and partly without the State. Such mortgages are taxed upon the proportion which the value of the mortgaged property within the State bears to the entire value of the mortgaged property situated within and without the State. It is also the duty of the Tax Commission to apportion among the several tax districts interested the tax collected on mortgages covering property in more than one tax district situated wholly within the State. During the year ended December 31, 1916 the Commission disposed of 960 cases of determination and apportionment releasing for distribution the sum of $296,769.04. During the year ended December 31, 1917, the Commission disposed of 1,200 cases of determination and apportionment releasing for distribution the sum of $240,416.25. All mortgages pending determination and apportionment at the time of the last annual report have been disposed of and all new cases are promptly disposed of as presented.

County Examinations

Section 262 of the Mortgage Tax Law confers general supervisory power on the State Tax Commission and under this authority the records of the several recording officers of the State are being examined for the purpose of ascertaining if all taxes collected have been accounted for, if the tax has been collected on all the instruments subject to taxation, if the computations of taxes are correctly made and in general to ascertain if the provisions of the Mortgage Tax Law have been complied with. Under this authority and for this purpose up to December 31, 1917, fifty-nine counties have been examined as follows: Albany, Allegany, Broome, Cattaraugus, Cayuga, Chautauqua, Chemung, Chenango, Clinton, Columbia, Cortland, Delaware, Dutchess, Erie, Essex, Franklin, Fulton, Genesee, Greene, Hamilton, Herkimer, Jefferson, Kings, Lewis, Livingston, Madison, Monroe, Montgomery, Niagara, Oneida, Onondaga, Ontario, Orange, Orleans, Oswego, Otsego, Putnam, Queens, Rensselaer, Richmond, Rockland, Saint Lawrence, Saratoga, Schenectady, Schoharie, Schuyler, Seneca, Steuben, Suffolk, Sullivan, Tioga, Tompkins, Ulster, Warren, Washington, Wayne, Westchester, Wyoming and Yates. There remain but three counties in the State to be examined — Bronx, Nassau and New York. Examiners are now at work in each of these counties and it is expected they will be finished by the time the next quarterly report is called for.

Expenses of Recording Officers

The provisions of section 262 of the Tax Law authorize recording officers to deduct their necessary expenses from mortgage tax moneys after such expenses have been approved by the Commission. The expense for hire of clerks and assistants during the year ended June 30, 1917, was $65,473.50 and the expense for printing, binding, stationery, bonds, et cetera, was $2,277.36 making a total expense for the year of $67,750.86.

Administration

During the year ended December 31, 1917, the recording officers presented to the bureau for review 565 cases in respect to exemption of supplemental mortgages under section 255 and indeterminate mortgages under section 256 of the Tax Law.

Mortgage Tax Operations

On the first of each month each recording officer is required to file with the Tax Department a report of the number of mortgage statements filed, the number of mortgages recorded and the amount of mortgage taxes collected during the preceding month. These reports show that for the year ending June 30, 1917, which is the end of the mortgage tax year, a total tax of $2,436,499.26 was collected. For the year ended June 30, 1916, mortgage tax in the sum of $2,846,824.49 was collected, which shows a decrease of $410,325.23 in the year ending June 30, 1917. For the year ended June 30, 1917, there were 3,034 mortgage statements filed and 103,468 mortgages recorded in the counties of the State. During the year ended June 30, 1916, there was 4,164 mortgage statements filed and 106,890 mortgages recorded in the counties of the State.

Annual Statements of Trust and Prior Mortgages

In the case of trust mortgages and mortgages executed prior to July 1, 1906, where the maximum amount of principal indebtedness has not been advanced there is required to be filed in July of each year with this Commission and in the office of the recording officer where such mortgage is first recorded a statement in which shall appear the amount advanced on such mortgage during the year preceding. The purpose of requiring the filing of this statement is to enable this Commission and the recording officers to determine whether the proper tax has been collected. A large number of these statements disclose the fact that advancements have been made without the payment of the tax to the proper recording officer. As soon as this is discovered steps are at once taken by this Commission to compel compliance with the law. The Commission in making demand for the tax due and the penalty thereon as provided by the statute has frequently met with the response that as the advancements in question had been made six years ago the statute of limitations operated against any enforced payment and therefore the parties in interest refuse to make settlement. The result is that there is now due the state a large number of delinquent taxes which should be collected.

During the year ended December 31, 1917, $17,963.77 in delinquent taxes and penalties were collected. This amount would have been largely increased were it not for the bar of the statute of limitations. An amendment to the law designed to remove the application of the statute of limitations to the collection of these penalties was introduced at the last Legislature but failed of enactment. It is earnestly to be hoped that such an amendment may be added to the law during the present year, inasmuch as the State is suffering a large loss of revenue from this defect.

D. The Special Franchise Tax Bureau

The special franchise bureau is charged with the duty of gathering and collating data relating to the appraisal of the values of special franchises. The statistical tables of valuations in the present report cover the twelve months ended September 30, 1917, that being the period in which all the special franchise valuations for the year were computed and recommended to the Commission for its final determination. Inasmuch as this is the only period which permits of accurate yearly comparison of the special franchise valuations and the taxes accruing therefrom, it is the period chosen for the statistical period of this report.

Increases in Special Franchises

The year 1916 was the first year in which the activities of the special franchise bureau, as reorganized by this Commission, included the valuations of all of the special franchise properties in the State, which year showed a total increase in special franchise valuations of $68,576,377 over the previous year 1915. The special franchise valuations for the year 1917, notwithstanding the fact that the operations of the special franchises during this year reflected abnormal conditions due to the war which affected the net earnings of many utility and transportation companies, still showed an increase of $56,340,983 over the previous year 1916. The total increase in special franchise valuations for the years 1916 and 1917 was $124,917,460. Prior to the years 1916 and 1917 the bureau of special franchises did not have full responsibility. This large increase is indicated as one of the practical achievements of this bureau as a direct result of a competent organization composed of practical engineers and accountants whose activities have been devoted to the most careful possible analysis of the operations and accounts of corporations and the careful appraisal of their physical properties.

Certiorari Proceedings

During the year the special franchise tax bureau has prepared a large number of memoranda of return showing the modus operandi of special franchise valuations in litigation. Of these, 250 cases of special franchise were in the city of New York alone. In all these cases, at the request of the attorney in charge, the bureau has reviewed the valuations and will have to prepare memoranda of return. These cases include all the boroughs of Greater New York and involve an aggregate assessed value of $1,375,194,915 or nearly the full assessed value of special franchises for the entire State of New York. They affect the taxes of the city of New York approximately $26,000,000. This task when added to its general work has taxed the bureau beyond its resources as now constituted and adds emphasis to the suggested re-organization and extension of the bureau submitted by the deputy commissioner.

The following table (A) shows a segregation of the tangible and intangible values of the special franchises, which separation provides the means of determining the tax revenue derived from the assessment of the intangible element in the special franchise in excess of the tax revenue which would be produced if tangible property only were assessed locally, as was the condition prior to the enactment of the special franchise law:

The work of the Bureau of Special Franchises is of a highly technical nature. It requires engineering and accounting ability and experience. The bureau comprises a force of experts, engineers, accountants and special agents who are engaged in the actual appraisal of all the tangible and intangible properties of utility and transportation companies. Its operations involve:

- 57 counties
- 58 cities, including Greater New York
- 476 incorporated villages
- 930 towns
- $705,000,000 aggregated value
- 2,100 corporations
- 13,500 separate franchises
- 11,000 re-valuations
- 5,000 investigations
- 350 certiorari proceedings
- 2,019 complaints and objections
- 5,900 official letters

The actual tax yield to the State attributable to the work of this bureau is over fifteen millions of dollars per year.

E. The Bureau of Local Assessments, Equalization and Statistics

"To investigate and examine, from time to time, as to the methods of assessment within the state, and confer with, advise, assist and direct assessors and other officials charged by the statutes of this State with duties relating to the assessment of property for taxation."

This duty is administered by the Bureau of Local Assessments, Equalization and Statistics. The bureau was created by the Commission in 1915 and is the first organized agency in the history of the Tax Department whose business it is to gather accurate and complete information regarding the local assessment of property in each tax district in the State and to aid local assessing officials and bodies in the performance of their statutory duties.

The few remaining months in 1915 after the bureau was established were necessarily consumed in preparing and perfecting plans, and in selecting suitable and competent men for the work. Under its present plan and organization the bureau has been actively engaged in the work of investigating and examining the local assessment of property since the beginning of the year 1916. Within this period the bureau has made detailed investigations of the assessment of real and personal property in every county, town, village and city in the State—in all 62 counties, 931 towns, 468 villages and 56 cities; a total of 1,517 districts.

Each investigation is conducted thoroughly, fairly and honestly and, while all information is courteously received from whatever source it may come, only that information is used which can be traced to a reliable source. The most authentic, and therefore the most reliable information procured by the bureau is the recorded transfers of properties. The official record of a transfer of real property, however, is not alone accepted by the bureau. Each recorded transfer is further investigated even, if necessary, to a personal interview with one or all of the parties to the transaction to ascertain the nature of the sale, whether forced or voluntary, the cash value of the consideration and whether or not the consideration covered property other than the land, buildings and other improvements. This is most important and necessary information in rural localities, particularly in the sale of farm properties, where it is the almost universal practice to convey with the real estate some personal property of value which is covered by the stated consideration.

In cities and larger villages much valuable and authoritative information is also procured from reliable real estate dealers and local building departments. Other sources of valuable information are appraisals made by banking institutions, building and loan associations and insurance companies in connection with applications for loans upon real property.

All of the information procured by the bureau has been made available to local assessing bodies and furnished to the State Board of Equalization.

These investigations have been made for the sole purpose of procuring facts and a sufficient number of facts regarding the local assessment of property to fairly and fully reflect actual conditions. The extent of each investigation, therefore, is determined by the size and wealth of the locality and the conditions disclosed.

Since the appraised value of a parcel of property is to a great extent a matter of personal opinion, in which there is honest difference, due allowance therefore is made by the bureau in all of its calculations. The many and varied sources from which the bureau procures its information and the extreme care which it exercises in verifying that information before allowing it to enter into its consideration and calculations, make our conclusions substantially correct and fairly indicative of existing conditions in local assessments for taxation purposes.

In some instances most interesting conditions are disclosed by these investigations. In the town of Corinth, Saratoga county, investigation by the bureau established the fact that real property in that town was assessed at 24 per cent of its fair and full market value. Previous to this investigation, the town assessments had been equalized by the former State Board of Tax Commissioners at 55 per cent and by the board of supervisors of Saratoga county at 85 per cent. In a recent appeal case brought by the city of Saratoga Springs, all the evidence admitted produced a rate of 23 per cent for the town of Corinth. In that same case, testimony taken regarding the towns of Ballston, Clifton Park, Galway, Halfmoon and Stillwater, produced rates within 2 per cent of the rates produced from the bureau's investigations. In the city of Saratoga Springs the difference was but 6 per cent on about ten millions of dollars worth of property.

In the city of White Plains the bureau's investigation of assessments of property showed that real property in that city was assessed in 1916 at an average rate of 55 per cent of its fair and full market value. The testimony of competent appraisers in an appeal case involving the assessments of the same year produces a rate of 54.6 per cent. In the city of Niagara Falls an investigation in 1915 by the bureau of assessments of properties showed that the real property in that city was assessed on an average of 45 per cent of its fair and full market value. The total assessed value of property in that city in 1917 is $83,306,210 which, is claimed by the assessor, to be substantially its fair and full market value. In 1915 the total assessed value of the same property was $35,388,980 or about 45 per cent of its value at that time, which is the same rate produced by the bureau's investigation.

In an action against the city of Port Jervis, it was stated by the assessors that they were assessing property in that city at "about one-third its value." A previous investigation by the bureau produced a rate of 30 per cent. In an action against the assessors of the town of Hunter, Greene county, the assessors stated that they were assessing property at "about one-fourth its value." A previous investigation by the bureau produced a rate of 23 per cent.

In a recent appeal case involving the assessment of real property in the town of Evans, Erie county, that town was given a rating of 51 per cent which was the rate produced by the bureau's investigation. This town appealed to the appellate division of the supreme court from that rating but has since withdrawn that appeal, accepted as correct the rate produced by the bureau's investigation and made money settlements with other tax districts in the county on that basis.

Further evidence of the fairness and correctness of the bureau's work may be inferred from the fact that the comptroller of the city of New York, without conference with the bureau, recently investigated the assessment of real property in twenty-four counties in the State and the results of his investigations are substantially the same as those of the bureau.

It is not to be inferred that the cases herein cited are the only ones which can be cited. They are but illustrations selected promiscuously from many cases showing like conditions.

While these investigations have produced information of great value to the Commission, to the State Board of Equalization and to local assessing bodies in their work, it has stimulated in the local assessor desire to do better work since, if for no other reason, he now realizes that he and his work are to be judged and rated upon facts disclosed by fair and impartial investigations the like of which never before existed. Custom and proneness to follow that custom have been the great faults of local assessors. Whether through fear of incurring displeasure by departing from the well worn paths of their predecessors, or because they personally preferred so to do, or whether, as some have said, they did not dare to depart from those paths, the assessment of property in former years by many local assessors is hardly worthy of the name. While it cannot be truthfully said that this condition no longer exists in any place in our great State, it can be said that cases of that kind are rare and are fast becoming obsolete.

The assessor has not been entirely to blame in many instances but has been practically barred from improving his work by lack of co-operation from his coassessors, the supervisor of his town and members of the town board. The principal reasons, however, which are given by assessors are the lack of proper information regarding property values and their universal feeling that their respective tax districts will not be fairly treated in county equalizations. The law empowering the State Tax Commission to review equalizations by boards of supervisors and county equalization commissions, guarantees to each tax district proper protection against unjust equalizations and the enforcement of that law has been most effective in producing better assessments of property by local officials.

The principal obstacle with which the bureau is met in its endeavor to arouse assessors to better work is not only the lack of proper and sufficient information regarding property values and the sources from which it may be procured but also their apparent unwillingness to act upon their own initiative and responsibility. In other words, as some assessors say, they prefer to place upon property a lower value which cannot be reduced than a higher value which they are not prepared to sustain if required so to do. The bureau has sought to overcome these objections by making available to assessors, all information at its command, by instructing them both as to their statutory duties and the proper manner in which they are to be performed, by inviting and promptly replying to all questions regarding their work and through the law division, by giving them legal advice and instruction.

We have made no special plea for increased assessments but have pleaded for and urged, wherever necessary, re-examinations of taxable properties and their revaluation upon the basis of fair and full values as required by law. While our work has not been returned a hundred fold in every instance, there is not a single case in which there has not been some return. Each year brings renewed success and each assessor is entitled to his share in proportion to his contribution to that end.

Mention is here made of the excellent work done by the assessors of the following tax districts which is reflected in the increases in the assessed values of real properties, other than special franchises, in 1917 over 1916:

The work of assessor Martin Sheehan in the city of Niagara Falls deserves not only mention but special commendation. In a review by the commission of the equalization of the 1915 assessments of Niagara county by the board of supervisors of that county, the assessment-roll of the city of Niagara Falls, among others, was carefully and thoroughly examined and much testimony taken. All of the testimony showed that the total fair and full value of all real property in that city was (in 1915) approximately $78,500,000 and that it was assessed for $35,388,980, or 45 per cent of its full value. The city assessor assured the Commission that he would secure a full value assessment of all real property in the city. Through his efforts the city now has a new tax map, assessment and tax rolls made out in proper and legal form, an assessable value of each parcel of real property on the 1917 assessment-roll determined after actual inspection and examination and at substantially its fair market value as determined by the city assessor. Owing to the vast and peculiar manufacturing interests in the city it was a most arduous task. The Commission thinks the work of city assessor Martin Sheehan of Niagara Falls, in making the assessment of 1917 in that city worthy of mention and of special commendation.

While in the city of Schenectady, the net increase in 1917 over 1916 is $8,341,474, it would have been many millions more but for the enactment of chapter 726 of the Laws of 1917 which classes as personal property certain machinery and equipment which might otherwise have been assessed locally as real property.

In the city of New York the net increase in 1917 over 1916 is $184,096,397. In 1916 the total increase over 1915 was $99,061,574. The actual increase in 1917 is in fact much more than $184,096,397 because the law which now classes as personal property considerable property which was assessed on the 1916 assessment-roll of the city in 1916.

PERSONAL PROPERTY

The advance reports of assessors indicate a material decrease in the assessment of personal property in the several tax districts of the State, which is accounted for largely by the operation of the Emerson law which provides for a tax of 3 per cent on the net income of manufacturing and mercantile corporations in lieu of the exemption from all local taxation of the personal property of such corporations. The decrease in the assessment of personal property, particularly of manufacturing and mercantile corporations, is more noticeable in the cities of the State, where in many cases an honest effort has been made to assess the personal property of such corporations. Very few tax districts outside of cities made any appreciable effort to assess the personal property of these corporations, and the share of the 3 per cent net income tax returned to these tax districts under the law will in many cases be clear gain. Whether the share of the tax returned to the cities will compensate fully for the loss of personal property of manufacturing and mercantile corporations heretofore assessed locally cannot at this time be determined.

EXEMPT PROPERTY

The net increase in real property exempt from taxation, as reported to this Department pursuant to section 15 of the Tax Law, for the year 1917 is $141,078,146, of this amount $104,248,053 is property owned by municipalities and is divided as follows:

Municipal water plants (New York city).....	$50,567,865
Sewer systems and distributary plants.....	15,522,145
Subways (New York city).....	27,134,660
Parks and playgrounds.....	6,580,132
Municipal lighting plants.....	2,210,475
Public schools	2,232,776

While the increase in exempt property owned by the United States, consisting of military reservations, arsenals and army and navy administration buildings, amounts to $26,842,550, these items account almost wholly for the total net increase of real property exempt from taxation in the State for the year 1917.

It should be borne in mind that the aggregate valuation of exempt property in the State, namely $2,247,673,448, is but an approximate figure and in a large measure is not based upon any accurate appraisal, nor does it represent all of the property exempt from taxation.

Assessors are wont to treat lightly the requirements of section 15 of the Tax Law, and they feel that since the property is not subject to taxation the reporting of it is but a perfunctory duy and are therefore not only not accurate in their appraisals of the valuation of such property, but are also lax in reporting fully the real property exempt from taxation in their tax district.

F. The Law Division

On November 1, 1917, Charles R. McSparren, counsel to the Commission and in charge of the Law Division, resigned his position to enter upon the practice of law in the city of New York. William E. Sill, former assistant counsel, was appointed December 24, 1917, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the counsel, and George F. Kenna was appointed as assistant counsel on the same date. The law division is charged with:

The preparation of all litigation prosecuted for the Department by the Attorney-General; legal advice to local tax officials of the State, advice and conference with the Commission and with the heads of the several bureaus of the Department on legal questions; the examination of bills introduced into the Legislature, drafting of amendments to the Tax and other laws; and advice to local attorneys for municipalities in the preparation of cases involving the review of local assessments.

TAX LAW COMPILATION

Several improvements have been made in the 1917 edition of the Tax Law. It has been found that a ready reference to the amendments to the Tax Law for the current year was greatly needed. This need was met by a digest of the amendments showing the chapter and section numbers which were made a part of the "Foreword" of the edition.

Some of the sections of the Tax Law are very materially affected by the provisions of other general laws or special statutes. It has been deemed advisable to insert such provisions in small type immediately after the section affected.

A further change this year was a reference to the section numbers of the Tax Law in the index digest instead of to the page numbers as formerly. This method of reference is more accurate and saves time and has the additional advantage of being permanent for the publication of the work from year to year.

RULINGS

The Commission is continuously making rulings through the law division to the various bureaus of the Department or to local municipal officials. In addition to an interpretation of the provisions of the Tax Law, the questions involve the construction of other statutes and reconciling the same with the sections of the Tax Law. The statute imposing an income tax on manufacturing and mercantile corporations has called for much necessary construction of this law.

LITIGATION REFERRED TO THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL

For the most part litigation against the Commission is in the form of certiorari proceedings to review special franchise assessments. Where these proceedings are not defended locally or by special counsel, the Attorney-General represents the Tax Commission.

The law division assists in the settlement or in the preparation of these cases whenever requested.

EQUALIZATION APPEALS — 1917

The Commission has continued its policy of endeavoring to close up equalization appeals within the year in which the appeal is taken. But this has not been quite possible this year owing to the very large amount of testimony necessary to be heard in the appeal taken by the city of New Rochelle from the 1916 equalization of the board of supervisors of Westchester county. A very considerable amount of testimony has been taken and the matter will be completed early in January.

An appeal brought by the town of Hancock against the remaining towns of Delaware county from the 1916 equalization has been heard during the year and was recently decided in favor of the respondent towns, dismissing the appeal with costs against the town of Hancock.

An appeal was also brought by the city of Saratoga Springs against the other tax districts and towns of Saratoga county and this has been heard during the year and recently decided. The appeal was sustained with costs against the remaining towns and tax districts and an order made directing restitution of $27,211.77 to the city of Saratoga Springs on account of State and county taxes overpaid by it in the year 1916. Some small sums were also directed to be paid to the towns of Ballston, Charlton, Clifton Park, Galway, Malta and Milton.

The appeal taken by the town of Evans from the 1916 equalization made by the board of supervisors of Erie county is still pending but is in process of settlement, the Department having been informed that terms of settlement have been agreed upon but the stipulation is not to be signed until after the first of January. Involved in this settlement is also the discontinuance of certiorari proceedings to review the decision of the Department in appeals taken from the equalizations made by the board of supervisors of Erie county in 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1915. The Commission is therefore able to report the substantial completion of all of these proceedings except Westchester county.

Sections 264, 330, 331

September 5, 1917. Chapter 700 of the Laws of 1917 amending sections 330 and 331 of the Tax Law and providing for an optional tax on investments does not repeal section 264 relative to a tax on mortgages. There is nothing necessarily inconsistent in the two provisions. Either method of exempting securities locally may be adopted.

Section 330

September 5, 1917. A bond or other obligation to come within the definition of "investments" in section 330 of the Tax Law must form part of a series of similar bonds or obligations payable one year or more from their date of issue.

Section 256

July 12, 1917. Where the consideration in a deed for real property is an agreement for support for life, it constitutes an equitable mortgage and is taxable as a mortgage for an indeterminate amount under section 256 of the Tax Law.

Section 4, Subdivision 11

November 17, 1917. A minister is entitled to his $1,500 exemption on real property owned by himself and wife as tenants by the entirety.

Section 219-j

September 22, 1917. Corporations are subject to local personal property tax for the year 1917 where the assessment was made prior to June 4, 1917, the date when the Manufacturing and Mercantile Franchise Tax Law went into effect.

Section 85, Town Law

November 17, 1917. A resolution of the town board under chapter 572 of the Laws of 1917 cannot increase the pay of assessors, except for services performed after the resolution and after the passage of said law.

BULLETINS FOR INSTRUCTION OF LOCAL OFFICIALS

The law division prepared two special legislative bulletins, one for assessors and the other for city, town, village and supervisors' clerks. These pamphlets contain all the changes in the laws made this year affecting these public officials and were issued to assist them in the performance of their duties. The Commission mailed a pamphlet to each official.

CORPORATION TAX LAW DIGEST

The sections of the Tax Law imposing franchise taxes on corporations have been the subject of more litigation, perhaps, than any other parts of the Tax Law. In view of this vast accumulation of cases it has been thought advisable to complete a briefed analysis of all decisions bearing on this subject in order to bring the records of the department down to date and afford the best possible opportunity for quick reference to the law. This work is under way and will, it is expected, be completed during the ensuing year.

The increased expenditures for salaries and office expenses for 1916 and 1917 over similar expenditures for 1915, or prior thereto, are largely due to the growth of the work of the department, and also to the transfer of the Corporation Tax Bureau from the office of the Comptroller to this department. In 1915 the State Tax Commission moved out of the temporary quarters provided for it after the fire in the Capitol in 1911 and returned to its new offices on the fourth floor of the Capitol. These changes necessitated a material increase in expenditures for new equipment in the past two years to replace the furniture and equipment damaged and destroyed as a result of the fire and also resulting from the removal to and from the temporary quarters provided for it after the fire. The work in the Corporation Tax Bureau has been greatly increased as the result of the enactment of chapter 726 of the Laws of 1917, which provided for a franchise tax upon manufacturing and mercantile corporations. The passage of this act compelled a material increase in the clerical force and operating expenses of that bureau.

At the present time there are 109 employees in the department, 4 of whom are in the military service of the United States; 36 of its employees are employed in the Corporation Tax Bureau. There were 98 employees in the department December 31, 1916, as compared with 68 employees April 16, 1915, when the present Commission assumed its duties.

G. The General Office Administration Division

During the present year the Tax Commission has adopted an efficiency rating system which applies to all the employees of this department. The system went into effect at the beginning of the year 1917. . It has proved to be a workable and practical system and its good effect has been seen in the increased effort and greater proficiency of the employees of the department. Some details yet remain to be worked out, but the system has been brought to the attention of various executive officials both in this and other States and has received such approval that chapter 653 of the Laws of 1917 was the result. This law provides that the State Civil Service Commission shall formulate and adopt some system of efficiency-rating to be State-wide in its application.

It is but fair to say that the department is carrying the increased burdens laid upon it by the Legislature with some difficulty on account of the lack of sufficient quarters and of proper rooms in which to carry on its work. In many of these rooms the lighting is insufficient, and during cold seasons work practically ceases on account of inability properly to heat the rooms. The ventilation is exceedingly bad and all these combined add to the difficulties of the administration staff of the department in keeping the work up to the present. It is to be hoped that with the coming of the new administration building there may be some relief from these onerous conditions. But in spite of these disadvantages, the Commission commends the spirit of faithfulness, industry and cordial co-operation which pervades the entire body of employees of the State Tax Department.

In this connection also it seems just to say that the employees of this department have loyally met the test of patriotism during the present crisis. We have had no slackers, the spirit has been that each one must do his share in subscriptions to the Liberty Loans, in memberships to the Red Cross, and in such other activities as have made appeal to it the personnel of the State tax department have shown themselves to be aggressively loyal Americans.

Respectfully submitted,

WALTER H. KNAPP,

President,

RALPH W. THOMAS,

JOHN J. MERRILL,

State Tax Commission.

MEETING OF STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

ALBANY, September 4, 1917.

The State Board of Equalization assembled in the office of the bureau of local assessments, equalization and statistics, in the State Tax Department, Tuesday, September 4, 1917, pursuant to law.

Present:

The Comptroller, by his deputy, Mr. James A. Wendell.

State Treasurer, Hon. James L. Wells.

Attorney-General, Hon. Merton E. Lewis.

State Engineer and Surveyor, Hon. Frank M. Williams.

Secretary of State, Hon. Francis M. Hugo.

State Tax Commissioners, Hon. Martin Saxe, President;

Hon. Walter H. Knapp, Hon. Ralph W. Thomas.

The meeting was called to order by Hon. Martin Saxe, President State Tax Commission, at 12.07 p. m.

On motion of Mr. Lewis, seconded by Mr. Hugo, Mr. Saxe was unanimously chosen as chairman. Mr. Saxe, being of opinion that the eldest State officer should preside over the deliberations of the Board, declined the election; whereupon, on motion of Mr. Saxe, seconded by Mr. Knapp, Mr. Hugo was unanimously elected chairman, and accepted.

On motion of Mr. Knapp, seconded by Mr. Wells, Mr. Horace G. Tennant was unanimously chosen secretary.

On invitation of the chairman the following gentlemen were heard by the Board:

Mr. Robert B. MacIntire, representing the Comptroller of the city of New York;

Mr. Colin H. Woodward, representing the Department of Taxes and Assessments of the city of New York;

Mr. Frank J. Bell, representing the Department of Taxes and Assessments of the city of New York;

Mr. John H. Ehrehart, representing New York Central Railroad Company, Consolidated Gas Company and allied interests (New York Edison Company, et cetera).

These gentlemen argued in favor of the claims of their respective clients, presenting papers and documents in support of their claims, after which the State Board of Equalization went into executive session at 1.20 P. M.

In executive session Commissioner Saxe moved the adoption of the tentative table on equalization prepared by the State Tax Commission, and after some deliberation thereon the Board, on motion, adjourned to Tuesday, September 18, 1917, at 10.30 A. M., at State Tax Department.

HORACE G. TENNANT,
Secretary.

The State Board of Equalization met in the office of the State Tax Department, Albany, N. Y., on Tuesday, September 18, 1917, at 10.30 o'clock A. M., pursuant to adjournment.

Present:

The Speaker of the Assembly, Hon. Thaddeus C. Sweet.

The Secretary of State, Hon. Francis M. Hugo.

The Comptroller, Hon. Eugene M. Travis.

The Treasurer, Hon. James L. Wells.

The Attorney-General, Hon. Merton E. Lewis.

The State Engineer and Surveyor, Hon. Frank M. Williams.

State Tax Commissioner, Hon. Martin Saxe.

State Tax Commissioner, Hon. Walter H. Knapp.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Chairman Hugo stated that he regretted the announcement of Commissioner Saxe of his intention to retire from the State Tax Commission; that he had been a faithful, capable and energetic public official, who had brought order out of chaos in the administration of the State Tax Department.

Board adjourned until 1.30 P. M.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment at 1.30 P. M., all members attending morning session being present, also the Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. Edward Schoeneck.

The Speaker moved that the table of rates, with appendix, as submitted by the Attorney-General, be and hereby is offered as an amendment to the original table of rates submitted by Commissioner Saxe in the original motion.

Seconded by the State Engineer and the Attorney-General.

Motion carried — Ayes 5 ; noes 4.

The Speaker then moved that the original table, as amended, be the table adopted by this Board. Motion seconded by the State Engineer and the Lieutenant-Governor.

Commissioner Saxe explained his vote by stating that he stood unqualifiedly on the rates adopted by the State Tax Commission and presented by him in his original motion for the adoption of the table prepared by the State Tax Commission. And for that reason he voted "No."

Motion carried — Ayes 5 ; noes 4.

On motion the Board adjourned sine die.

HORACE G. TENNANT,
Secretary.

The State Tax Department publishes herewith a list of tax districts with the assessed valuation of real property exclusive of special franchise property for the years 1916 and 1917, respectively, together with the per cent of increase. The list shows a very material increase in the number of tax districts as compared with the list published in the report of the State Tax Commission for the year 1916, and indicates that the assessors of the State are in a measure responding to the demands of the State Tax Department—that real property shall be assessed at its full and actual value. The assessors of the several tax districts listed below are to be commended for their work as shown by the increase in the assessed valuations.
